GREEN CERTIFICATION

In July the Law Library applied to renew its green certification with the Cleveland Metropolitan Bar Association. In early August, the Library received the honor of being “Green Certified” for the biennial period from 2010-2012. Along with other recipients, the Law Library will be listed in the Bar Association’s Journal and on its website. The Law Library was also honored at the Bar Association’s luncheon for the Second Annual David Webster Greener Way to Work Day. You can read about the conservation efforts that won us initial Green Certification in our Fall 2009 Newsletter, which can be found on our website. Challenged to do even more than last year, the Law Library recently migrated its process of printing charge records for patron faxes, emails, and research projects to totally electronic format. Based on the amount of requests we fill, this new procedure is saving us a lot of paper. We are constantly re-examining the way we work and would be happy to entertain your suggestions about how we can work even greener.

PODCASTERS WANTED

Want to be the star of the Library’s next Podcast? If you have always wanted to produce your own Podcast but don’t have the resources, that’s where we can help. If you are knowledgeable about a particular topic, we can work with you here at the Library to produce your Podcast. We will provide the necessary software and technology, and we will record the podcast at our offices. All we ask is permission to post the podcast on our website. If you are interested, contact Kathleen M. Sasala, at ksasala@clelaw.lib.oh.us.

NEW COPY CARDS DEBUT AT THE LIBRARY

Have you ever reached into a desk drawer or sifted through the cards in your wallet only to find one or more of the Law Library's copy cards that you had long forgotten about? It's time to gather those up and bring them in to exchange for our updated version. We have recently contracted with CardCash Systems for new card readers and copy cards for our copiers. The cards will have a new look, featuring the Library's logo and phone number, but they will still be available in varying dollar amounts as before and operate similarly in the machines. In addition, we will continue to recycle the used cards once they are empty. We will be glad to check your old returned cards for remaining dollar amounts and issue you new ones. Be sure to stop in the Library soon for a trade-in!

OUR MEMBERS VALUE US

It's nice to be loved! The following is what some of our members are saying about us:

• "The six attorneys at Berns, Ockner & Greenberger, LLC, keep the Cleveland Law Library on speed dial for a number of reasons. Despite the availability of numerous on-line legal resources, there remains a crucial need to mine the Library's treatises, articles, and other resources which are otherwise unavailable.

The Library's capable staff is usually able to locate and transmit copies of relevant excerpts from these resources by facsimile or email, or deliver by messenger the entire resource within a short time allowing us to include the relevant information in our time sensitive papers.

The Library is indispensable to our practice."
- Paul M. Greenberger, Esq., Berns, Ockner & Greenberger, LLC

• "The staff at the Cleveland Law Library works miracles! Almost instantaneously, they produce relevant, on-point research. Not only do they have access to all the traditional resources, but they have access to resources I didn't even know existed!"
- Elizabeth Kelly, Esq., Solo Practitioner

• “I am able to help many more clients in my law practice because of the endless resources and the helpful staff at the Cleveland Law Library.”
- Tania T. Nemer, Esq., Of Counsel for McGinty, Hilow & Spellacy Co., LPA

• “The Cleveland Law Library has been an invaluable asset to my law practice, both in its plethora of resources and research assistance. I hope they can continue to offer their services to the Cleveland legal community.”
- Eli Tamkin, Esq., Solo Practitioner

• “Always courteous and friendly, and the services they provide are excellent.”
- Carmine Camino, Esq., Solo Practitioner

• “I don't think people realize what a truly valuable asset we have in our Cleveland Law Library and its staff. Simply put, they make us look good. CLL allows us to provide a high level of service to our attorneys because the service they provide is second to none! Whether it's filling a simple routine request or 'finding the impossible,' we can depend on them for a quick, accurate response.”
- Maryann J. Prochaska, Library & Information Asst., Hahn, Loeser & Parks, LLP

• “I only have compliments for the staff of the Cleveland Law Library. Their prompt and courteous service is always relevant and directly on point. No request is too small; no job too big.”
- Roger M. Synenberg, Esq., Synenberg & Associates, LLC

• “The CLL -- what a treasure trove of resources and of expert, helpful library professionals!”
- Susan Miljenovic, Librarian, Baker & Hostetler

• “Trial adjourned early. I needed a cite. The elevator door opened. Up. The doors opened to a beautiful, quiet and friendly place---the Cleveland Law Library.”

What a great movie set! The librarian took me to the personal property books; the librarian looked online. Nothing! The property books were close. I took the first after an empty space. So, I read. There it was, but the case was 1905--none after. Court convened. I cited the 1905 case. But my opponent said, 'How can you trust a case that old?' The judge said, 'You can't! So I checked it out yesterday myself. You can't. . . because I found one from 1846 . . . it was better.' The missing volume! Everything is just upstairs--exactly when I needed it. Better than the computer.”
- Sheldon P. Stark, Esq., Solo Practitioner
